

Coolamun – Wallangarra White Gum

Carved by Uncle Laurie Bimson

This traditional Coolamun has been carefully hand-carved from a Wallangarra white gum tree. Shaped like a small canoe, the Coolamun is a versatile vessel traditionally used by Aboriginal people to carry food, tools, and even young children.

Commissioned by TAP3 Pymble Station (2021), this piece reflects both cultural significance and skilled craftsmanship.

Uncle Laurie Bimson is a respected woodworker, proudly living and working on Guringai Country.
